$\checkmark$ Business segment profit increased significantly in the Machinery business due to strong sales of machine tools
$\checkmark$ Operational profit decreased due to depreciation of the yen against the euro, creating a temporary increase of impairment loss related to the exchange contract. The negative impact of the fact that exchange gain, which was scheduled to be reported during FY2017, was included in the results of FY2016 ahead of schedule in accordance with the IFRS standard also contributed to the decrease in operational profit.
